

Dear Students Young Professionals and Mentors, Dear All

If you are interested in the Electronics, Industrial Electronics, Power Electronics, Artificial Intelligent, Industrial Informatics etc... subjects please try to join the event as advised in the file enclosed.

I would like to invite you to take a part in this event even now! (not waiting for the date of the conference). Please note that this is a virtual event and most materials are already distributed by the YouTube channel. Please try to see and make some comments like or dislikes. Questions and suggestions are most welcome under the videos. Please disseminate this info to your surrounding.

Please see all videos before the IECON2020 at IEEE IES YouTube Channel and add your comments, suggestions, and questions:

We are not familiar with virtual conference ;-) yet - however, we should remember that we would exchange our ideas about interesting subjects independently from time zones by chats, channels, blogs, etc. like we are doing in our private life for at least 25 years when the internet has been invented.

Please focused on application that has been mentioned by Authors. Do you know any similar work in your Country, Home Town or area were are your from ?

Let us know by YouTube comments - we will use them in the Panel on Monday.

In this case we would safe a time for recorded presentations and go faster to the Panel to give an opportunity to be more interactive.

Just an idea we shall check it how it will work.

Kind regards,

Marek
